

How Long, Oh Lord?

The struggle to raise up and equip godly Christian leaders in northern Mexico persists. As the headlines announce daily, the illegal drug trade and the pandemic of drug violence now grips the country in fear, especially in the North. Superficiality reigns, and ambition and greed ride roughshod over the morals of most in Monterrey, the industrial center of Mexico. To be the hands and feet of Christ, pastors and church planters like our friend Eraclio need sound, Christ-centered, teachers and mentors who will equip them.

We're willing, but we can't go without partners who will pray for us and provide financial support.

Through the gracious support of others like you, we have already raised nearly 70% of our required budget. Our goal is to be in language school by August '09. But, we're not there quite yet. Will you take a moment right now to respond by investing in God's kingdom as His Spirit leads you.
